Text 2 The following text is for questions no 5 – 11

Gelatin is a protein substance that comes from the skins and bones of animals. Most people know it as the substance used to make a jellylike salad or dessert. Not only is it useful in making these foods, but it is also beneficial to the consumer because of its high protein content. Gelatin is also commonly used in the photographic industry and in making medicinal capsules.

The process for producing gelatin is a long and complex one. In the processing of gelatin made from bones, which varies slightly from that of gelatin made from skin, the grease first must be eliminated. Then, the bones are soaked in a solution of hydrochloric acid in order to rid them of minerals and are washed several times in water. Next, the bones are placed in distilled water, heated to over 90°F for a few hours, and it is concentrated, chilled, and then heated again at a little over 100°F. A fluid forms from this heating, and it is concentrated, chilled, and sliced. Finally, it is dried and ground.

In its final form, gelatin is white, tasteless, and odorless.

5. The text above discusses about ...
 A. the process of making gelatin.
 B. advantage of minerals.

 A. The chemical used in making gelatin comes off the surface of the bones by rinsing with water.
 B. Gelatin made from skin is produced in the same way as that made from bones.
 C. When the gelatin is dried, it is in powder form.
 D. Grease probably does not aid in producing gelatin.
 E. A fluid does not form from this heating.
8. "Next, the bones are placed in distilled water," (Paragraph 2).
 A. hot
 B. plenty
 C. cool
 D. purified
 E. boiled
9. What is the main idea of the second paragraph?
 A. The final form of gelatin is white and odorless.
 B. Gelatin can only be produced in distilled water.
 C. Producing gelatin is not simple work.
 D. Producing gelatin needs a lot of fresh water.
 E. Gelatin can be produced from two sources.

 A. useful
 B. various
 C. unfaithful
 D. addictive
 E. dangerous

The following text is for questions 16 to 19.

Tsunami

A tsunami occurs when a major fault under the ocean floor suddenly slips. The displaced rock pushes water above it like a giant paddle, producing powerful water waves at the ocean surface. The ocean waves spread out from the vicinity of the earthquake source and move across the ocean until they reach the coastline, where their height increases as they reach the continental shelf, the part of the earth's crust that slopes, or rises, from the ocean floor up to the land. A tsunami washes ashore with often disastrous effects such as severe flooding, loss of lives due to drowning, and damage to property.

A tsunami is a very large sea wave that is generated by a disturbance along the ocean floor. This disturbance can be an earthquake, a landslide, or a volcanic eruption. A tsunami is undetectable far out in the ocean, but once it reaches shallow water, this fast-traveling wave grows very large.

12. Tsunami happens because ...
 A. The displaced rock pushes water above it.
 B. A significant fault under the ocean floor slips suddenly.
 C. The ocean waves spread out from the vicinity of the source.
 D. The waves move across the ocean until they reach the beach.
 E. A tsunami is a very large

13. What are the impacts of tsunami?
 A. The part of the Earth's crust that slopes, or rises, from the ocean floor down to the land.
 B. A tsunami washes ashore with often disastrous effects such as flooding and loss of lives.
 C. A tsunami is a very large sea wave that is not generated by a disturbance along the ocean floor.
 D. A tsunami is detectable far out in the ocean.
 E. A tsunami is wave

14. We understand from the text that tsunami ...
 A. Causes the movement of the earth.
 B. Forms a new shape of the coastline.
 C. Makes unfortunate events.
 D. Raises a new coastal land.
 E. A tsunami is wave
